What's New in the Has GPS?

GPS tags provide information for photos and videos taken by a camera equipped with this technology. File size: 2.5 MB Uploaded: 2007-03-01 Last update: 2007-03-01 Nordic nations' new turn-by-turn navigator. Navigator X has been released for Nokia NSeries and N95 smartphones. The first nationwide navigator for Nokia phones with GPS. Navigator X tracks and guides you to your destination. The new interactive map from Europe's premier media company, broadcaster and content provider consists of maps with radio stations, shops, points of interest and public transport routes. This innovative service has been created by NCC Media, a division of NavInfo AS, the only specialized company in the region that offers location-based services to mobile phone companies. Navigator X is just one of the innovative products and services that the company has developed to add value to mobile phone users and their daily lives. To find your destination, simply enter your current location or set a destination. To find the quickest route, choose between the previously taken route, the route you choose or the fastest route. The new interactive map also contains a traffic summary. Navigator X comes preloaded on all Nokia NSeries and N95 smartphones. Developed in close cooperation with European mobile phone companies and the world's leading mobile phone manufacturers, as well as with navigation experts from the world's leading navigator manufacturer, NavInfo AS, NCC Media's services are guaranteed to provide the most efficient navigation. NCC Media's website: About NavInfo AS: NavInfo AS is the leading developer of location-based services, and is the only company in the region that offers location-based services to mobile phone companies. NavInfo AS was founded in 2001 and is based in Norway.Renderers,
